

Say Cheese

These new dental treatments will give you something to smile about—literally. —LISA SHAMES

SMILECYCLE

Introduced last December, this blend of physical and digital experiences treats all types of misalignments—crowding, spacing and overbites—in half the time and half the cost. "When rethinking the orthodontic process," says co-founder Dr. Suhail Mohiuddin, "we wanted to create something that would minimize visits and that we would be able to guide virtually." With a 3-D scan, the team digitally plans the movement combined with

Invisalign technology with an average of four office visits as compared to 15 with standard treatments. Not convinced? SmileCycle offers a scan and smile design at no cost. $2,500, 1259 S. Wabash Ave., 353 E. Grand Ave., 312.846.6752, smilecycle.com

ICON SPOT TREATMENT

In the not-so-distant past, minimizing those pesky white spots on teeth—typically caused by a loss of minerals from tooth enamel—was a tricky process. But at Weller Dental, a two-pronged approach changes that. Starting with the Zoom whitening system to get teeth their best color, the tooth-by-tooth procedure continues with the ICON Spot Treatment, a nondrilling and no-shot technique that penetrates into the tiny holes and fills, as well as reinforces, the enamel. "It makes those weakened areas of the tooth stronger," says Dr. Jeffrey A. Weller, "and camouflages the appearance in one simple treatment, restoring the beautiful natural look of the tooth." $150 per tooth, 1050 N. State St., 312.654.0606, 920 N. York Road, Hinsdale, 630.654.2900, wellerdental.com